Local florists are ready to provide the perfect finishing touch.

Love isn't all that's in the air! Adorn your ceremony with the delicate beauty and fragrance of fresh flowers. Luckily, Snoqualmie Valley is home to several florists who won't let you make that mistake.

Snoqualmie has sent countless bouquets down the aisle over the years, adding just the splash of color every bride dreams of. ## Down to Earth

Down to Earth Flowers & Gifts first opened its doors in historic downtown Snoqualmie 21 years ago.

Over the years Down to Earth has created beautiful floral arrangements for hundreds of weddings in the Valley. Their designs have a natural, casual elegance inspired by the beauty of the Snoqualmie Valley and the Pacific Northwest.

Down to Earth focuses primarily on micro-weddings at local venues and elopements. Designers collaborate with couples to realize a vision that is uniquely theirs.

“Each event is – and should be – unique,” said Alice Friedel, of Down to Earth. “We love meeting with couples and getting to know them, to create florals that capture the season, the place and the feeling of their event.”

Together with a team of talented designers, Alice and Jenny are most inspired curating flowers from the Pacific Northwest, but can pull from national and international vendors as well. This versatile, creative team has helped create lasting memories for more than two decades, and look forward to helping create many more in the years to come.

Bakeries

Exquisite cakes await you and your sweetheart.

The bride cuts the cake...

Traditionally, no reception was complete without the newlyweds clasping hands and slicing that first piece of vanilla wedding cake. These days, dessert options are as varied as the style of dress. From chocolate to blueberry lavender and cupcakes to multi-tier towers, modern couples truly can have their cake and eat it too.

Taste and texture still reign supreme—and that's where it pays to know an excellent baker. Sweeten up your special day and wow the eyes as much as the tongue.

Café Minee

Located on River Street and Railroad Avenue in Snoqualmie, Café Minee is a small cafe filled with delicious baked goods, soups, sandwiches, coffee, and so much love. The owner/baker, Sang, started to bake in her spare time for her son and his friends using only quality ingredients, natural flavors and purified water. Like all mothers, she wanted her child to eat only the best. Her love of baking for friends and family grew larger, and it naturally pushed her to open her own store. She named it after her first born son's nickname which was also her own nickname when she was a little girl. Café Minee means everything to Sang. Hope you will love what she loves.
